Flint Breneman Is Game Young Man

After Being Extricated From the Wreckage Under Street Car, Is Alive and Well.

A. F. Breneman, who had a close call in the terrible auto accident of last Sunday near Stege, in which J. C. Arnold was instantly killed, displayed wonderful nerve while pinned under the wreckage beneath the street car. For 45 minutes he was in this perilous position, and directed the men who were manipulating the jacks in hoisting the car from the bodies of Arnold and himself. Once when the jacks slipped and the car pressed upon his body, he never complained, but coolly directed the men. Breneman is the son of Dr. J. F. Breneman of Stege. The injured man's sister is a teacher in the Stege school. She says her brother will soon be fully recovered from his injuries, proving that he is a game young fellow, with nerves to withstand a shock like the horrible mixup of last Sunday when the auto containing four persons plunged headon into the big street car on San Pablo avenue.

Virulent Rabid Cat Bite.
Norman Woodford, 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Woodford of 440 10th st., has returned from St. Winifred hospital, San Francisco, where he was taken by his parents a month ago for treatment, having been bitten by a rabid cat. The case was watched with anxiety by his parents as well as physicians, as the wound was virulent in the extreme. It is believed the lad has fully recovered.

U. S. Money.
WASHINGTON, April 25.—There is a billion and a half in the vaults of Uncle Sam at Washington, which is now being counted by the government's employees. It would take one man 300 years to count this amount, dollar for dollar, but the coin is counted by weight. Sacks of gold containing $1000 are carefully weighed and used as a standard. It will require two months to complete the job of counting.

Look at the Ballot.
The ballot is arranged for the "mutts" and "don't cares." Take a look at it. Notice the names at top. Are the union labor candidates first on the ballot? The names, according to law, should be arranged in alphabetical order. They are arranged on the sample ballot to catch the careless voter, who may be in a hurry to return to work and may vote for the "most convenient" at the top of the ballot. Does this look good to you, Mr. Voter?

More Fire Houses.
Richmond will soon have three more fireproof fire houses with auto trucks. One will be at 5th street, one at Barrett avenue near 12th street and another at Cutting boulevard and 23d street. The fire house and equipment on the west side at Park Place cost about $22,000. The east side of the city is growing so rapidly that a bond issue would be advisable to the extent of $90,000 to secure this essential security. The buildings everywhere would spring up like mushrooms and insurance rates could be cut. A fire may come at any time and wipe the city off the map. The water commissioners are getting the water. Let the people work for the immediate construction of fire houses.

PERSONAL.
The funeral services of the late John Wessman, who was killed by an S. P. train at Pinole, were held from the Curry undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon.
A. Hinkelman of San Francisco, Richmond property owner, was in Richmond Monday looking after his interests here. Mr. Hinkelman owns business property on Macdonald near Seventh.
Ralph C. Hovis, the live real estate man of the Truman Co., 701 Humboldt Building, San Francisco was over Wednesday on business connected with the North Richmond tract that is now on the market.

Albany "Tacky" Party Social Hit

Prominent Citizens Haled Before Kangaroo Court and Fined For Being 'Stylish.'

Albany is on the map, and will ask Mr. "Jack" Eschleman, chairman of the railroad commission, to pass upon certain municipal transactions with a view to adopting the Pala Alto plan of government. The "tacky" party given by the ladies' improvement club Tuesday night was a great social success. The kangaroo court was in session from 9 to 10:30, many cases being disposed of, several prominent citizens being fined for various offenses. A Richmond newspaper man was "pinched" for wearing a white collar and being dressed up. He was denied an appeal, his attorney, the lady president of the club, making an eloquent plea for him, proving that her client had only one suit of clothes, one shirt and collar. The judges conferred behind the piano for a few moments and on reappearing reduced the sentence from 25c to 15c, the policeman making the arrest having tipped the judges as to the amount of cash the culprit had. A pathetic scene was enacted when Pat Maloney was haled before the court charged with wearing phony jewelry. Pat had the goods on him, and but for the crying of his frightened small children and the fearful, pleading wife, it would have been good night for Pat. So realistic was this acting that Pat's children were removed to the ante-room—they were crying in earnest. Judge Paul, who administers justice in Albany, who was an invited guest, was fined for carrying a brass watch. There was dancing, ice cream and cake and a "tacky" old time—one continuous round of applause. It was "grate."

BOOSTERETTES.

Twenty-fourth and Nevin is looking better every day. A swell residence section to be.

Parties representing two theatre circuits are negotiating for sites near Seventh and Macdonald.

Harborage is beautifully situated and will be the main trail and active center when shipping traffic begins in earnest.

Did you notice South Tenth st., how it resembles a business thoroughfare more every day. Good street that.

No presidential election can ever change activity in Richmond. The number of new buildings in course of erection run high into 3 figures.

If you watch the smoke around South Sixth street you may see it coming out of the chimney of a $50,000 plant. Plans are being drawn in San Francisco.

Be a booster and pay your bills. If you can't pay, do without, like the preacher, the printer, school teacher and other individuals who have a "mission to fulfill."

A trial test on ore from different parts of the state by the Golden Gate Metal Extraction Co. gave very satisfactory results. By their method very low grade ore can be handled profitably.

QUESTIONS OF CIVIL SERVICE.

Candidates are respectfully asked to stand up and answer:

1. Do you like the Socialist platform?
2. Will you employ Richmond citizens on all public work?
3. Will you favor immediate erection and equipment of city hall and adequate fire houses?
4. If the Seventh street proposed opening is knocked out would you favor the payment of advertisements and appraisers' fees for the same out of the city treasury?
5. If $25,000 has already been paid toward tunnel and harbor for fees would you favor the expenditure of the balance of the funds for fees, or would you save some for real harbor construction?
6. The subway controversy has been up for many months. Would you wait until 1915 before you give the good people east of the subway relief?
7. Would you play toward favorites like the old ward style or would you cut out special privilege that would give the "boss" concessions for a few who would do his dirty politics?
8. Would you place any petition of citizens "on file" or would you give the common people some consideration?
9. Would you give one section of the city all the modern improvements?
10. Would you favor a municipal printing plant that would give the taxpayers accurate statistics about receipts and disbursements, and that would give information to all without omission and save the city a few thousand a year for printing, or do you prefer the ante-diluvian system of the ancients?

TAXPAYER.

No Getting Away From It.

The Southern Pacific Company will erect its new passenger depot, standard style, on the site of its present depot in the commercial center of Richmond. This will be the only depot on Macdonald ave., where a large local passenger business has developed, because it is in walking distance from the business of the city. The sales of local tickets to various points have increased enormously, because the service is located near the spot that marks the center of population and the civic centers. On getting on and off passenger trains, transient guests find themselves in the city within walking distance of all activities everywhere, in commerce, lodge, social or civic welfare, and this counts on the right side of the ledger in financial monthly reckoning.

Professional Men Meet Business Men

Interesting Baseball Contest Today. San Jose High Defeat St. Mary's 6 to 5.

There are great war clouds of dust hanging over First and Macdonald as the Terminal goes to press this afternoon. The baseball contest is on between the business men and professional men. It will be an awful engagement, and armies and collodion are in demand. In the column below are illustrations of some of the plays snapped by "our special artist."

Doc Horner, dentist and first baseman for professional men's team, chasing for a foul fly. It was a difficult "extraction."

Chance's N. Y. Yankees broke the bad streak, shutting out Philadelphia 4 to 0.

What's the matter with the Richmond high school nine? Have the boys been attacked with hookworm?

San Jose high school athletes contested St. Mary's college huskies last Saturday and divided honors. St. Mary's entertained the young prune eaters in royal style, paying the latter's traveling expenses and giving them a fine dinner. San Jose won the ball game 6 to 5.

Fred Newsom, signaling Rev. G. A. White, center fielder, to look out for a high fly.

The Marathon.

Conn & Kirchner, who have installed a new garage near Macdonald on 7th, have on exhibition the new Marathon-25 automobile which for appearance and strength is a model car, considering the reasonable price of $1050. The Marathon is a standard car and has made a reputation for speed that many connoisseurs will remember.

SEES NULLIFICATION IN LAND BILL

President Jordan Declares the Proposed New Laws Are Clearly Invalid

Educator Shows Hague Court Is Against Acts—Claims Japanese Are Not Mongolians

Stanford University—David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, scored the pending legislation of California against the holding of lands by the Japanese as unconstitutional, and declares that it contains the old theory of "nullification" in which a state may assume to itself powers delegated to the federal government.

According to Dr. Jordan, the United States constitution forbids the making of treaties and agreements by states with foreign nations, and therefore California cannot make out as objects for special legislation the citizens of any foreign nation who may be residents within the state.

"These four propositions seem to be true," said Dr. Jordan.

"Such bills as the propositions made in each recurrent California legislature to restrict land ownership by aliens are unconstitutional if directed against aliens of any particular nationality.

"2—They are invalid in contravention with any existing treaty, this and the preceding being matters to be finally determined in the federal courts.

"3—They are not valid if attacking the present legal right of ownership.

"4—They would, if directed against all alien ownership, have sweeping effects, not yet estimated.

"As to the first point," continued Dr. Jordan, "under our constitution, a state, as such, cannot make any treaty or agreement with a foreign nation, nor with any group of people considered collectively as members of such a nation.

"It cannot, therefore, single out as objects of special legislation the citizens of any foreign nation who may be residents within the state. This condition is not changed if such aliens are named indirectly as 'aliens not eligible to citizenship.' Such subterfuge does not change the intent or the effect of the statute.

"If this is correct," declared Dr. Jordan, "then no state legislation against the Japanese can be valid."

In regard to the second point the Stanford president stated that a statute would be invalid if violating any of the provisions of an international treaty of the United States. The aliens in the United States, according to Dr. Jordan, are in a sense the wards of the nation, acquiring their rights to travel and of residence, primarily, through international treaties.

Dr. Jordan sided with the little brown man in declaring that the Japanese is not a Mongolian by race or origin, and that it has not yet been proven that he is not eligible to citizenship.

According to Dr. Jordan the Japanese is more likely derived from the Caucasian race, and has been tempered greatly by the Malay races and some of the early races of China. As far as Mongolians are concerned, the speaker declared that many people of Austria, Hungary and Southern Russia, which countries were once invaded by the swarming Huns, possess more Mongolian characteristics than the Japanese.

In speaking of the third point on the legal right of ownership, Dr. Jordan said: "We have the decision of the Hague tribunal of 1905, in the noted house-tailor controversy in Japan ('the British Isles, Germany and France vs. Japan'). In this case it was decided that a nation could not alter the conditions under which aliens have obtained title to land, except with the consent of such owners.

"If Japan cannot change concessions or sales made under former conditions to foreigners resident in what were the treaty ports of Yokohama, Hakodate, Kobe and Nagasaki, without the consent of the foreigners, then California cannot force aliens, having legal title to property, to sell such property within a given time. Nor can she in any legal way take such property away from them. An anti-alien land law cannot be made retroactive, or change conditions once legalized."

Continuing, Dr. Jordan said: "If California wishes to shut out foreign capital, that is another question. The bulk of alien ownership in California is British. As to the theory involved, there is no doubt something to be said on either side; but how the state would come out with the sudden reversal of policy, no one knows."

Concluding, the Stanford president said: "Any state statute applying exclusively to aliens of any special nationality, however disguised in phraseology, must apparently be unconstitutional. Such a statute would rest on the impossible doctrine that a state may form alliances or have differences with any foreign nation, without involving the United States. This is, in another form, the old theory of 'nullification'—that a state may assume to itself powers reserved to the federal government."

San Francisco at Election Votes to Recall a Judge, Extend City Car Line and Lower Telephone

San Francisco, April 2.—San Francisco voters yesterday ratified the traffic agreement between the board of supervisors and the United Railroads, recalled, Police Judge Charles Weller and adopted an initiative ordinance reducing the business telephone rates.

The Market street agreement carried by a two to one vote. Judge Weller lost his place to Wiley Crist, candidate of the recall League, by a few hundred votes. The ordinance of the Telephone Users' Association was adopted by 3000 votes.

Weller made a hard fight. He was ahead in the early part of the evening and it was not until the vote had passed the 25,000 mark that Crist made appreciative gains. Then he jumped by the hundred votes to a precinct. Crist won in the residence districts, where the women's vote was heavy.

The ratification of the street railway traffic agreement, which was the overshadowing feature of this election from the standpoint of the city's development, means that the Geary street municipal road will be completed from beach to ferries by July 1; that the Sutter cars will have the right to run to the ferry and that the ancient horse car will be seen no more.

Portola Proclamation Issued By Mayor of San Francisco

San Francisco—"Pursuant to the request of the board of supervisors, expressed in Journal resolution No. 689 (passed March 24, 1913), I do hereby designate the period from October 22 to October 25, 1913, as Portola festival period, the time wherein shall be celebrated by public festival the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Vasco Nunez de Balboa and the one hundred and forty-fourth anniversary of the discovery of San Francisco bay by Gaspar de Portola, the first governor of California.

This being a fiesta in which not only San Francisco but its sister cities on the bay have an interest, they are cordially invited to participate in entertaining the representatives of the nations of the world. Let us play together, let us work together, standing for and with each other in this as in all else that is good for the cities about San Francisco bay.

In friendship and good fellowship let us make this celebration such a success that every encouragement will be given toward making the Portola festival recurrent annually. It holds especial meaning for the entire Pacific coast. The citizens of all parts of California, Washington, Oregon and Nevada are invited to share with us in the merrymaking.

It is earnestly requested that San Franciscans celebrate not only the historical anniversaries giving occasion to the festival, but the completion of the rebuilding of the city. In this, as in all other features, every organization, civic and fraternal, is cordially asked to take part. Californians throughout the world are urged to return to their old home to unite in festivity with those still here and those who have adopted California as their home in recent years.

Let us see to it that nothing stands in the way of our making this celebration the success the world always expects from California and from San Francisco. Let us all unite, as individuals and as organizations, to give the greatest fete in the history of the state and the city.

Witness my hand and the seal of my office at the city and county of San Francisco, this 9th day of April, in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirteen. JAMES ROLPH, Mayor.

MRS. STORY NEW PRESIDENT OF DAUGHTERS OF REVOLUTION

Washington—Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York city was elected president of the Daughters of the American Revolution on the third ballot by a majority of 51 votes. On the last ballot she received 505, while Mrs. John Miller Horton received 449. Mrs. Charles P. Bryan, the peace candidate, retired from the race during the morning session of the congress. Seven vice-presidents general also were elected to complete the complement of new general officers. They were: Mrs. Thomas Kite of Ohio; Mrs. Rhett Goode of Alabama; Mrs. John Swift of California; Mrs. Allen P. Perley of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Ben F. Gray Jr. of Missouri; Miss Harriet I. Lake of Iowa, and Mrs. John Lee Dinwoodie of Indiana.

ENORMOUS SALE OF PARCEL POST STAMPS

Washington—More than five million parcel post stamps, the face value of which exceeds $2,500,000, have been supplied to postoffices of the country since the establishment of the system. Parcel post business is increasing so rapidly that it has been found necessary to double the daily output of stamps. The largest single order filled this month was $360,000 worth for New York city.

HUERTA OVERTHROW PREDICTED

Undisguised Pessimism Manifested in Mexican National Capital

Practically Whole Northern Portion of the Country in Hands of Revolutionists

Mexico City—Undisguised pessimism is manifested in the capital as to the future of the Huerta government. In neither official nor unofficial circles are the statements of General Enrique Obregon, commander of the Sonora insurgents, and Venustiano Carranza, ex-governor of Coahuila, of the probable overthrow of Huerta longer derided. Without exception, the newspapers aver that the only hope of salvation lies in the flotation of a loan. Practically all of them admit that non-recognition of the present administration makes this very doubtful.

The banks continue to reflect the government's financial difficulties and refuse to sell exchange except at exorbitant rates, while merchants are raising their prices to balance the difference between Mexican and foreign currency. There is no fixed rate of exchange. The bankers are selling practically as brokers and are charging favored small buyers as low as 230, while demanding from heavier purchasers as high as 250.

That the rebels in the north are rapidly extending their lines is indicated by the isolation of Monterey and Saltillo, the capitals respectively of Nuevo Leon and Coahuila, by the cutting of the railroad at Lineras, between Monterey and Tampico, and the main line of the National railroad between San Luis Potosi and Saltillo. Lineras is reported to be occupied by the rebels.

The Ward Line steamer which sailed from Vera Cruz, was crowded to overflowing. Some of the wealthy travelers had to content themselves with quarters on the floor of the smoking room, while others only could be accommodated in the second cabin, although they paid first-class passage.

Many foreigners are leaving the country in fear that anarchy will follow the revolution. The government is using every effort to resist the advance of the rebels, but the extraordinarily rapid growth of the rebellion has brought the central government face to face with the most serious situation which it has been called upon to meet. It has been found impossible to dispatch any great number of troops to the northwest. Chihuahua is inadequately defended. Coahuila, except in the extreme south, practically has been abandoned. The state of Nuevo Leon is protected only at the cities along the railroad, and there are none too many troops in Tamaulipas.

The rebels practically are in control of the northern frontier. Carranza and other insurgent leaders are demonstrating that they are working in complete accord. Columns are moving eastward and westward from Carranza's command to effect junctions.

In the south, where it was believed the problem had been limited to the Zapata brothers, the strength of the rebels has increased greatly.

NO MORE "PORT" OR "STARBOARD" IN NAVY

Washington—Two bits of sea talk dear to the hearts of all old salts are consigned to Davy Jones' locker in an order issued by Secretary Daniels abolishing the designations "port" and "starboard" and replacing them with "left" and "right" in the everyday parlance of landlubbers.

The change was endorsed by the navy general board, which, in a statement explaining the reason for the change, said: "It is thought if a search is made for terms that will indicate exactly what is to be done and that are familiar from childhood to all that may become steersmen, more appropriate terms than right or left cannot be selected. Wheelright or wheel-left or simply the order right or left, is a direction to the man at the wheel which can be instantly and accurately executed. These orders also accord with the motion of the arm and hand when used in conning ships."

Accept Terms of Powers' Note
Sofa—Premier Gouchoff informed the Sobranje that the Bulgarian government had accepted the terms of the latest note of the great powers containing proposals for ending the war in southeastern Europe. The premier said Bulgaria's acceptance contained reservations, but that these would not hinder the conclusion of peace.

Receiver for Nevada Mines
New York—Henry S. Kaskins has been appointed receiver for the Tuscarora-Nevada Mines company, a $2,000,000 corporation, owners of the Dexter, Grand Prize, Eira, Big Betay and Young American mines in Nevada. The petition asserts that the company never had sufficient working capital and is facing many suits by creditors.

Fish Commissioner Quits
Washington—President Wilson has accepted the resignation of George M. Bowers, United States fish commissioner, to take effect immediately. Dr. Hugh M. Smith, deputy fish commissioner, was designated as acting commissioner.

Freedom of Speech.
The classic argument for freedom of speech was made by Milton in his "Areopagitica" when he wrote:
"Though all the winds of doctrine were let loose to play upon the earth, so Truth be in the field, we do ingloriously by licensing and prohibiting, let misdoctrines strangle the truth, let her and falsehood grapple; who ever knew Truth put to worse in a free and open encounter?"

giving me a few easier ones to do?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Superstitious Burglars.
The English burglar is fond of a talisman and pins his faith to a lump lump of coal is produced in court as part of the contents of the prisoner's pocket.

That Lost Balance.
A young lady while out boat riding one day in a park, attempted to change seats and fell overboard.
When she was brought up gasping and struggling, the usual crowd gathered around and asked how it happened.
"Oh, I just lost my balance," she began, when a little Jewish boy, who had been listening open-mouthed, said:
"Youse loose your balance, lad, I will find it for youse."

Policemen in Silk Hats.
Savona, Italy, is probably the only town in the world where policemen wear top hats. They cannot help wondering what the policemen's "toppers" look like after the officers have had a rough and tumble with hoodlums.
Perhaps, however, Savona lives up to the level of respectability indicated by the silk hats and does not possess hoodlums.—World Wide Magazine.

Eggnog for Invalids.
Separate the yolk from the white of an egg, beat the yolk thoroughly and then beat the white to a froth, add a heaping teaspoonful of sugar, a trifle of salt. Stir these into the yolk and then add the white. Add enough milk to fill the glass and stir. Add either one or one-half spoonful of sherry.
The salt offsets the flavor of the egg.

To Mend Agate Ware.
When rust has eaten a hole in an agate or enameled ware foot tub or other vessel of similar ware, that is not used on the stove, the hole may be covered by dropping in melted sealing wax; hot water does not affect the wax and when eventually it falls off, it may easily be renewed.— Home Department, National Magazine.

Uses Horses to Drag Nets.
In the lower part of the Columbia river, between Oregon and Washington, men are often seen on horseback wading about in what appears to be an aimless manner. They are really fishing for salmon with huge dragnets, which are so heavy as to make the assistance of horses imperative.

Then and Now.
It used to be that father would buy ten cents' worth of kerosene and the grocer would stick a potato on the spout of the can to keep it from spilling. Nowadays the gas bill is never under $5 and potatoes are worth two cents each.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Better Man.
I would rather have a man who sometimes caught fire at the wrong time than one so damp and flabby that you could never get a spark of enthusiasm out of him.—Henry Van Dyke.

At the very southern gate of the United States lies Cuba, the Pearl of the Antilles. The name was given by the Spaniards, who knew what they were talking about. For some reason of soil of climate Cuba is the most favored of all the West Indian islands.
Not only is the scenery of the island of wonderful beauty and variety, but the products of her soil are finer in quality than the products of any of her neighbors though they lie in practically the same latitude and grow the same things.

Wrapped up in Cuba is most of the military romance of our generation.
The war with Spain was a very little affair as wars go nowadays. All the fighting that took place hardly amounted to the size of a good skirmish in the Russo-Japanese war. But it was an intensely dramatic and picture-que campaign and it was the only American war of our generation. It marked the full development of the United States as a world power. And it was the most elaborately reported war that ever took place. Naturally, therefore, we think a good deal of it, though it may seem a small affair to other nations. And as a matter of fact it was intensely interesting and amusing. If you ask any war correspondent who has attended the campaigns of the last fifteen years, which of them all he remembers with the most interest, he will certainly choose the Spanish-American war as the best experience of his life.

The Broken Hawker.
The reason for this lies largely in the romantic scenery of the Santiago province. The harbor of Santiago with its ancient Morro castle guarding the entrance is one of the most pictureesque sheets of water in the Caribbean. It runs inland through a gap in the high rocky coast to a wide slieve turns, so that from the outside it is impossible to see the harbor at all. When Schley, with his flying squadron, was sent around the south side of Cuba to search for Cervera's fleet, he passed by Santiago and declared there was no Spanish fleet in sight. That evening a coaling vessel which was being towed along by one of the warships broke the hawser and was left behind for a few hours. While the cable was being mended one of Cervera's vessels came and poked her nose out of the mouth of the harbor thinking that the American fleet had gone. She was seen immediately by the collier and Schley was brought back to battle up Cervera. If that collier had not broken her tow-line Cervera might have come out of Santiago and proceeded to Havana; and the whole course of the war would have been different.

That would have been a pity; for Santiago provides the most wonderful setting for a campaign. Back from the rocky coast, a few miles inland, runs a high range of mountains. Between these mountains and the coast the country is covered with the richest vegetation. The American army in attacking Santiago had to advance along one narrow path through an almost impenetrable forest. When Grimes planted his battery on the famous hill of El Poso which lies about three miles from the entrance to Santiago they along the light green of the grassy slopes, the attack had begun.
The American army, after lying for hours under the galling fire of the Spaniards, had at length made up its mind to stay quiet no longer. It rose and slowly walked up the ridge of hills. That was a little bit of a battle as battles go. But also even in war is not everything. And in the history of American arms there is no more romantic page than that which describes the frontal attack on the San Juan

New One to Him.
A wealthy farmer was in a lawsuit the other day. In the trial the authorship of a certain newspaper article came up. It had been signed by his name. "I never wrote that," he said. "Why, there's words in here I never saw before." "Ah," said the main lawyer, "you will find you point out one of them." "Well," replying a thick finger down the page, "there's one of 'em. 'V-i-z.'—San Francisco Argonaut.

To Be a Man.
A man shall and must be valiant;
he must march forward and quit himself like a man.—Carlyle "On Heroes."

The Result.
"How was the silence broken?"
"Somebody dropped a remark."

HAIRLESS BREED OF HORSES
Animals of the Turkomans Require Much Care and Thrive on Somewhat Peculiar Diet.

The greatest peculiarity of the Turkoman breed of horses is their hairlessness. They have naturally very little mane, and what they have is always carefully cut off. Their skin is very soft and thin. Colonel Stewart in "Through Persia in Disguise" tells of the great care taken of these animals.

They are never stabled, but picketed in the open. They are, however, warmly clothed. First the Turkoman puts over his animal a thick felt body-covering of the size that an English horse wears; over this he fastens an immense piece of felt that covers the horse's ears and his whole body down to his hocks. This clothing he keeps in place with a long roller, which is passed three times round the horse's body.

The Turkomans feed their horses when in camp, on barley or chopped straw, and give them four and sheep's tail fat, or clarified butter, when they are going to call on them for great exertion. I myself, in India, have often given my horses a pound each of four and coarse sugar, and half a pound of clarified butter made into balls. I have ridden them far and wanted them to go on again. The horse easily digests this ration, and he is ready to start sooner than if a feed of corn is given him. It is also supposed to give great strength.

Turkomans give their horses almost anything they eat themselves. Although hardy in respect of food, the horses require a good deal of care as to clothing, for their fine coats and delicate skins make them very susceptible to colds.—Youth's Companion.

BORNE ON THE LIGHT

ALL DEEDS AND HAPPENINGS OF
THE UNIVERSE RECORDED.

Waves Flashing Eternally Through Space Forever Continue to Carry the Comparatively Brief Story of Man and His Doings.

"Not the least of the wonders of light is the truth that, through its agency, ordinary deeds and ordinary happenings, as well as all other kinds of affairs in this busy world of ours, are immortalized. We are accustomed to the idea that souls are immortal, that energy cannot be annihilated, that matter cannot be destroyed, but what of this extraordinary immortality of deeds? Simply this: light that is reflected or given off from an object carries an image, a picture of the object, with it on its travels, no matter how long the journey or whither it may lead. When these image-carrying light waves enter the eye, the picture they bear is revealed, whether the waves have been only the infinitesimal fraction of a second in coming from the face of a friend across the street, or whether they reached the eye after a jaunt through space from the flashing scintillations of a far-off star. Even as we see our nearest star neighbor not as it is today, but as it was four years ago, the light that is reflected to this star from our planet carries pictures of the earth as it was 48 months ago, and any person, if at that distance from the earth and equipped with some means of collecting the light waves, would see events and deeds that had transpired on this earth in the year 1908!

Suppose we had some matter how pictures of the earth as it was 48

distance from the earth and equipped
with some means of collecting the
light waves, would see events and
deeds that had transpired on this earth in the year 1908!

Soft Fabric From Stone.
A manufacturer in the north of Russia claims to be making a fabric from a gray stone of Siberian origin. This stone is susceptible, it is said, of being woven into a fiber, and the cloth weav-ed from it is said to be soft, durable and presentable. One report has it that the peasants of the district are generally wearing clothes made from it. This necessarily calls attention to the glass cloth industry. The fabrics woven from spun glass, however, are more costly than the fine silks they resemble so much. An English manufacturer is doing something more to the point in weaving cloth from old ropes. In the sandwich islands a fabric in common use is made from the mulberry plant. More interesting still, in India and Jamaica the natives understand a process by which banana skins may be reduced to a fiber that may afterward be woven into cloth.

Not Much Out of the Way.
Mrs. Rush is a zealous and loyal wife and intends to avoid exaggeration, but has a strong tendency in that direction.
"It's perfectly wonderful," she said to a patient friend, "to see the way Mr. Rush counts bills at the bank. I think they are so lucky to have him!
He'll take a great pile of five and ten and twenty dollar bills and make his fingers fly just like lightning and never make a mistake!"
"Never?" asked the friend, who knew Mrs. Rush's weakness and could not forbear the question.
"Well—no—at least," stammered Mrs. Rush, "why, perhaps he might get five or ten cents out of the way, but not any more, ever."

Americans Control Pitch Supply.
On the beautiful island of Trinidad, chief source of the world's supply of pitch, the article has been put to every possible use by the natives. Formerly the streets of the Port of Spain were lighted by torches of pitch, but the people objected to the odor. Nothing, however, was done to develop the pitch and oil industry until recent years. This indifference to its value has been credited to the fact that the Trinidadians had so many other resources, such as their cocoa, coffee and sugar, from which to gain an abundant livelihood. Now, however, the pitch and oil industry has been concentrated in Trinidad and the Americans now control its output.

Remedy for Chapped Hands.
Quarter of an ounce of camphor, the same of sweet oil and white wax, place together in a cup to melt until thoroughly mixed. If you wash the hands in warm water and good soap, just before going to bed, rub thoroughly dry, then apply the remedy, rubbing it well in; sleep in loose gloves with holes cut in the palms.

Fair Proposal.
"What did your husband say when you told him that you proposed to join the outcasts in their hike to Washington?"
"He said that if I was so enthusiastic over long-distance walking, I ought relieve him of walking the floor nights with the baby."

The Stomach Is the Target

Aim to make that strong—and digestion good—and you will keep well! No chain is stronger than its weakest link. No man is stronger than his stomach. With stomach disordered a train of diseases follow.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery forest roots, and extracted without the use of alcohol. Sold by druggists in bottle form at $1.00 per bottle for over 40 years, giving general satisfaction.

If you prefer tablets as modified by R. V. Pierce, M. D., these can be had of medicine dealers or trial box by mail on receipt of 50c in stamps.

Arabian Honey.
Arabian honey, which is frequently mentioned by historians as an important export from Aden in early times, is no longer an item in the export trade. Small quantities, however, continue to come from Mokalla, 400 miles east of Aden, and it is also exported from that place to India in small quantities. The decline in the honey—and was industrious, has been gradual for centuries, and is attributed to a diminution in the rainfall. The honey that comes to market in Aden is packed in gourds and goatkins and sometimes in hollow pumpkins.

"Can't beat that game," said the coal

Not for That Reason.
"Why is it that so few people heed the warning about kissing being an unsanitary practice?" "I suppose it is because so few people do it for their health."—Baltimore American.

The imprisonment of reckless auto drivers will help some.

Bryan is coming to help settle the anti alien land bill question. The people have already settled it the same way the Japs settled with us.

If the Nevada power and irrigation scheme goes through, Lake Tahoe will be drained. Lake Tahoe on account of its natural beauty is one of the most valuable assets of the state.

The tentacles of the baseball octopus are becoming so long and sharp that Uncle Sam is testing the edge of his scissors. The trust magnates in baseball have commenced to "kill the goose that laid the golden egg."

Do not specialize in progressiveness—balance or equalize, so that you won't become too sided. Progressiveness in politics is to be commended, but why not progress in other ways? For example, try that old one, "Do unto others," etc.

If the electric street car systems between Richmond and Oakland intend to reduce the time 20 minutes, why not reduce the fare? Five cents from Oakland to the county line is reasonable enough, but 10 cents from the county line to Sixth and Macdonald is out of reason.

And now the Jap, seeing the anti-alien land bill barrier before him, asks the United States government to recognize him as a subject fit for naturalization. This looks a bit like nerve. After being kicked from the front door he runs around the house and wants to enter in the rear.—Pinole Times.

County and city governments are not partisan questions. The amending of the primary law so as to prevent partisan nominations for county or city offices may be a good thing if it does not build up an intrenching and office holding class. From San Francisco's experience, it would seem that there is no cause for alarm.

Occasionally, as the election of county officers draws near, the remark is frequently heard: "Clean out the courthouse ring." This is an old battle cry used extensively by reactionaries and retrogressives and available little for the designing politician and office seeker who attempts to start something with nothing substantial to start with. It is widely known and freely commented on that Contra Costa county has the best officered courthouse in the state. The men holding the county offices are not alarmed at these "faint echoes" in advance of the coming campaign. They have heard them before.

A Victoria correspondent of the Terminal says: "We are not punished for building homes, stores or factories or for raising crops or cows. Homes, factories, cattle and all personal property are exempt, and taxes are levied on land values and natural resources." If this great wave of prosperity in the Northland is due to common sense tax laws that induce immigration, thereby developing the resources of the country, why not try it out in California, a state capable of taking care of the entire population of the United States?

The Terminal is the oldest union newspaper in Richmond, the first to place at its masthead the insignia of unionism, the union label. The publisher of The Terminal joined the typographical union in 1881 in Denver, Colorado, and was a "side-kicker" with Eugene Field on the Denver Tribune. Field succeeded Bill Nye on the Tribune in 1880. Nye going to Laramie, Wyo. Here he started the newspaper called the Boomerang and later was appointed postmaster. This is all "ancient history," but is a tip to union men who are struggling for better working conditions that a journalist printer who has paid his union dues each month for more than thirty years, would come nearer advocating the principles of unionism in his newspaper than the subsidized corporation organs with their hired editors and "made-to-fit-buck" for the union man.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Tom Johnston made a pretty fair record after all.

Picton, Lane and Eggerth are the union labor candidates, and look like winners.

A candidate regretted to a Terminal representative that he could not have any of his printing done at the oldest newspaper and the first to carry the union label in Richmond. This is a sad state of political affairs.

Edward McDuff, who is in the race for city councilman to succeed himself, has his knockers. They say that laborers employed by the city, board at his hotel, the St. Francis. Mr. McDuff says they board there because he sets a good table.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

The gate receipts at the new baseball park of the Coast League at 42d and San Pablo, Oakland, counting a fair average in attendance each Sunday of 15,000 persons, is at least $6000. Did you ever figure out how much the "business mutt" ball player gets out of this? Talk about white slavery, the yellow peril and other afflictions, but the boys who furnish the clean national sport for the American people don't get a look-in. Caricaturist Oppen's Uncle Topsy holding little Common People up by one ear illustrates the relative position of the professional baseball player of today with his big dub boss. With the exercise of intelligence and brains the players could eliminate the big bosses, raise their own salaries and relegate slavery features now practiced by the trust. The public would much rather contribute generously to the players than be "stood up" by a monopoly who see nothing in the game except the dollar.

Clearer Vision Later.

(High school boy to papa): "Say, papa, why are so many big manufacturing employes candidates for city councilmen? There are no perquisites, salaries or gifts with these positions, and much time must be devoted to municipal affairs, not counting the regular Monday night sessions. Why do these employes seek a thankless position of this kind?"

"My dear son, when you have attained a mature age and a broader view of the mysterious workings of politics and big business; when you have been touched up with the hot end of the cracker of the whip of the big captains of industry, then will your vision be clear on this question."
